

Department of English

B.A – English (Programme Outcomes)

Program outcomes for a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in English typically include a combination of general educational goals, language proficiency, critical thinking skills, and an appreciation for literature and its cultural contexts.

PO-1 Students completing this degree program will be able to pursue research in the area of their interest in the subject of English.

PO2- Students demonstrate proficiency in the English language, both in written and oral communication.

PO-3 Students apply grammatical, syntactical, and lexical knowledge effectively in written and spoken discourse.

PO-4 Student's acquire knowledge of key literary works, authors, and literary theories across diverse cultures and historical periods.

PO-5 Cultivate effective writing skills for various purposes, including academic essays, critical analyses, and creative writing.